September Meeting: Pot Luck Supper

It's that time again, to enjoy each other's company and yummy food! Bring your appetite, something tasty to share, Show & Tell, fabric scraps, and a friend.

Join us on Sept. 20 in the church dining hall. Please note, the meeting begins at 6:30 pm with set-up at 6:00.

Table Scraps

At the September meeting, we will have a free scrap table for the purpose of exchanging fabric scraps. Donate any scraps, bits and pieces that you no longer want. Please take any scraps from the table that you'd like, whether you brought any scraps to add or not. If your scraps don't find a new home, they have to return to yours or they will be swept into the trash on the way out the door.....you know we have to because left unsupervised, they MULTIPLY!!!!

From the Prez

I hope you are excited about our pot luck meeting. I know I am! We always have a lot of wonderful conversations and, to me, it's a re-connection to the guild after the summer holidays. Have you been to visit Tim Latimer's blog at www.timquilts.com before? Tim is so prolific and one of his recent quilts was made completely from fabric gleaned from his guild's scrap table. I really liked the idea because there are some of us who LOVE scraps and some of us who DON'T. Perhaps there are a few in the middle. My definition of scraps is anything less than a half yard but larger than a 1" square. Whatever your definition is, I hope you'll consider bringing/taking some scraps from the Scrap Table. If it's well received, it could be a regular feature of our meetings, so give me a thumbs up or thumbs down on it.

One other thing I wanted to ask is if you'd seen Jan Ochterbeck's blog post about the Quilts of Valor (QOV) block drive? Check out: <http://thecolorfulfabriholic.blogspot.com/2016/08/lcts-for-qov.html>. Jan has donated her Log Cabin Triangle (LCT) block tutorial to the QOV block drive Alycia of <http://alyciaquilts.blogspot.com/> is hosting. She's also teamed up locally with Gwen Clopton and her co-workers and Dar Sforza (<http://darspatchworkgarden.blogspot.com/>). The LCT block looks pretty easy and fun.... I might have to make a few, because I've got my QOV blocks for our guild's project finished, woo hoo.

Looking forward to sharing a wonderful meal with everyone and seeing some inspiring Show & Tell.

Cherie

Remember – QOV blocks are due at the September meeting. If you took a QOV block kit, please don't forget to bring your completed blocks.

Program Notes

Carol Peck

The September meeting is our annual potluck and a wonderful chance to visit as well as to enjoy each other's cooking.

The October meeting will feature our challenge quilts. Many thanks to Dolores Keaton for her work on the challenge. If you were not at the March meeting to get her handout, the description of the challenge can be found on p. 1 of this newsletter. Be sure to attend so you can vote for your favorite among the challenge quilts. October will also feature our first Orphan Adoption. Each member is invited bring one (or more) orphan blocks, quilt tops, patterns or tools and try to entice another member to claim them for their own. Please do not bring fabric to this meeting. If your orphan(s) are not adopted, please be prepared to take them home as we do not have a way to dispose of them. We hope this will be a fun event with innovative selling strategies for the orphans.
